

Diplomacy:
The Key to Success at HenMUN

How do I stand out? How do I get my chair to notice me? How do I succeed in achieving my country's goals? How do I win an award? These are the questions on every delegates mind as he or she prepares for a conference. Delegates come up with many different answers to these questions. Write a strong position paper, speak the most or the loudest in committee, sponsor a resolution, represent a powerful nation. At HenMUN, however, the answer is far simpler than that. Diplomacy. At HenMUN, awards will be given to the delegate(s) who are most diplomatic in their debate and negotiations with other delegates, respectful in all interactions with other delegates and staff, and exemplify what it means to be a true diplomat. Diplomacy is the key to success at HenMUN. We consider diplomacy to be our first priority to ensure the best debate experience for all delegates and staff, and to best prepare our delegates for future endeavours on the Model UN Circuit and beyond in their professional lives.
